IEM About Work Blog

About

Hi, I'm Isaac a full-time student of Coder Academy studying Fullstack Web Development. I'm based in Brisbane, Australia and also work as a freelance animator.

I love to get out and hike with my dog Kai as much as possible. He's my best mate and we help each other out whenever we hit a tough part of one of our icy winter hikes.

Hi, I'm Isaac a full-time student of Coder Academy studying Fullstack Web Development. I'm based in Brisbane, Australia and also work as a freelance animator.

I love to get out and hike with my dog Kai as much as possible. He's my best mate and we help each other out whenever we hit a tough part of one of our icy winter hikes.

When I'm not busy with my head in the screen, I like to go see live music, roll around the local skatepark, and get out on bushwalks.

I've always been interested in design and animation. Here's a link to some of my work.

In 2010, I moved to Japan which was lots of fun and in 2014, I went and lived in New York city. It was an eye opening experience. It took a while for me to adjust but I love the place and hope to go back one day.
